Defining the Product

What is Directors & Officers Liability Insurance?

Non-Bodily Injury or Property Damage;
"Loss;"
Resulting in "Claims" against an "Insured;"
Arising from "Wrongful Acts" in their capacity as a director, officers, trustee, or public official of the entity

Why is D&O Insurance Important?

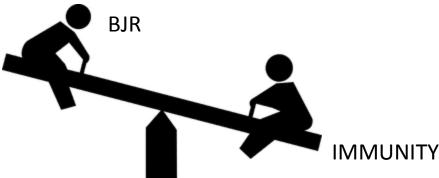

Fundamental Liabilities

Duties of Directors & Officers

- ✓ Loyalty
- √ Care
- ✓ Obedience
- ✓ Disclosure

Generally breaching these duties gives rise to liability.

Business Judgment Rule for most – but state agencies have something even better...

D&O Fundamentals

Indemnification is the first line of defense

- Their indemnification may not be sufficient
 - Bankruptcy
- Their indemnification may not be permissible
 - By Statute, or Structure of Settlement, or Judgment
- Insurance is an important last line of defense!

Reasons D&O claims are brought

Major Sources of Liability for Non-Profit or Public Officials

- Donors: failure to use funds as directed, mismanagement of donated funds, misrepresentation, etc.
- Third Parties, Beneficiaries, Stakeholders, the Public at large:
 Failure to adhere to mission statement or public service purpose for which it was intended to serve, etc.
- Employees: employment related claims such as discrimination, harassment, retaliation, wrongful termination, etc.
- Governmental Agencies: claims alleging violation of law
- Creditors, Bondholders: misrepresentation, mismanagement, failure to use funds as stated
